PT, DPT

Physical Therapist

Francis Nguyen completed his Doctorate of Physical Therapy degree from the University of Iowa. Francis' desire to help people make a meaningful change in regards to their health and physical well-being led him to pursue his career in the physical therapy profession. Upon graduation, he began working in Nebraska. After returning to his home state of Iowa, he joined the physical therapy team at DMOS Orthopaedic Centers. At DMOS, Francis strives to always keep the patient's best interest in mind through honesty and transparency.

Francis effectively treats and manages orthopedic issues through a variety of services and programs, including:

- Spine Rehabilitation
- Sports Injury Rehabilitation
- Post-Operative Total Joint Rehabilitation
- Pediatric Orthopedic Rehabilitation
- Orthotics/Splinting
- Chronic Pain Management
- Strengthening Programs
- Sports Specific Training

In his free time, Francis enjoys working out as well as watching the Cyclone's basketball and football teams.
